

OUR GERMAN SHIPS SUNK

ROSE FITZGERALD MARRIED IN THE CARDINAL'S CHAPEL

Joseph P. Kennedy and his bride (Rose Fitzgerald) leaving Cardinal O'Connell's residence today after their marriage, at which the cardinal officiated.

Miss Rose E. Fitzgerald, daughter of former Mayor and Mrs. John P. Fitzgerald, became the bride of Joseph P. Kennedy at 9 a. m. today in the private chapel of Cardinal O'Connell, the cardinal officiating, and also celebrating mass.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Agnes Fitzgerald. The bridesmaid was attended by Joseph Donnan, Harvard '11.

Only the families of the bride and groom were present.

The bride is a graduate of the Dorchester High School and studied two years with her sister, Miss Agnes, at the Sacred Heart Academy of Aix-la-Chapelle in Holland. She completed her education at the Sacred Heart Academy, Manhattanville, New York. She has traveled extensively, speaking French and German fluently. She has had an excellent musical education.

Mr. Kennedy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Kennedy of Winthrop. His father is a former state senator and Boston was commissioner.

The bride's gown was of white satin trimmed with rose point lace. Her full court train of white satin brocade in watered mode extended from the shoulders. Her veil was

BRAVES IN GOOD SPIRITS AGAIN

By NICK FLATLEY.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 7.—The champion Braves are in Philadelphia—cheerful and full of fight as ever now that they have at last arrived at the scene of the great battle for the baseball title.

The gloom that held over the squad last night because of the unfortunate accident is gone, and a new faith has been born. George Stinney, miracle manager, has put his stamp of approval on Charlie Deal, and the Braves are contented.

Immediately after the accident last night Deal had gone into the second game and showed all the dash and fire that marked his work in the early spring, making looked up.

He is likely to be a star, and "Honey" Stinney has been as good as his word.

Continued on Page 8, Column 4.

NAVIES LOOK OUT AT PHILLY DROP BOMBS IN RHEIMS

PRETTIEST GIRL MARRIED BE HELD CAPTIVE

HOLISTON, Me., Oct. 7.—That Mildred Sullivan, "the prettiest girl in Aroostook county," is alive and held captive will be one of the most sensational claims offered by the defense when the disappearance case comes to trial.

Counsel for Dr. Lionel E. Butler and Alice Pelletier will demand that County Prosecutor Archibald prove that the missing high school girl is dead. The defense contends the government has no right to accept the theory Mildred died on the afternoon of night of September 4. It hints that persons in no way connected with the accused know where Mildred Sullivan is today.

Disputed among the defendants is reported. Kate Michael, who was bound over for the November term of the Aroostook County Grand Jury with Mr. Butler and Alice Pelletier, is no longer on speaking terms with the doctor or his patients.

Reports were circulated that Miss Michael might turn State's evidence against the defendants. "Nothing to them," they declare. "Nothing to them," they declare. "Nothing to them," they declare.

Miss Michael has been seen in earnest conversation on the street with Andrew Briggs, Mills Sullivan's sweetheart, since her arraignment. Briggs has told everything he knows to the county authorities and will be one of the government's witnesses at the grand jury hearing which is slated to begin on November 17.

Attorney Scott, counsel for Dr. Butler, is also counsel for Alice Pelletier, but Miss Michael has a lawyer of her own.

It was learned today that Winifred Southard and Frank McArthur are

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

German Cruiser and Two Gunboats Are Reported Sunk

TOKIO, Oct. 7.—Semi-official reports received by the Japanese government state that the German cruiser Comoran and two German gunboats have been sunk in Kia-Chiao Bay by the bombardment of Japanese and British warships. It is stated at the Admiralty that the fire of these three ships has been silenced. The gunboats are believed to be the Ilse and Pagant.

The shipping railroad as far west as Chik-Nan has been seized by Japanese troops.

Two Men Injured in Chelsea Collision

One man was severely injured and another badly shaken up today in Chelsea when two cars collided, owned by the New England Cattle Company.

Second street, Chelsea, struck a wagon standing in the police down today and were thrown out. The injured men are Alfred J. Hill, No. 101 Poplar street, and Jack Hill, No. 101 Poplar street, Chelsea.

French Girl Bride of German Tonight

Forecasting how the cannons roar in their native countries, Miss Alice Drexel of No. 11 Maybrook street, South Boston, who is French, will be married tonight to Richard Burleigh, a German, at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Columbia road, Dorchester, by the Rev. W. F. L. Doherty.

They were brought down to the altar by the Rev. W. F. L. Doherty.

Hold 2 for Attack on Railroad Man

Michael J. McDonald of A street, South Boston, and Fred McArthur, also of South Boston, were charged with assaulting and intimidating a railroad man today.

Henry J. Russell, an employee of the Boston and Maine Railroad, was brought before the grand jury today.

Lloyds Insuring Against Zeppelins

LONDON, Oct. 7.—London today began quoting prices against the risk of Zeppelin attacks (dropping bombs) upon London buildings. The first price was three shillings and sixpence per cent. This was very low, being only 1/2 of 1 per cent.

Miss McCarthy to Be Bride Tonight

Gertrude H. McCarthy of 78 St. Francis street, Cambridge, will be married tonight to Charles W. McCarthy, of St. Margaret's Church, Dorchester.

Father John's Medicine Saves

One half a million men are engaged in the new struggle, with the Germans pressing forward in an effort to cut off and surround the French near Arras and Douai.

Special World's Series Edition OF THE Boston Sunday American. Out Next Sunday, Oct. 11

By Cobb, the greatest of all baseball players; A. H. C. Mitchell, Nick Flattley and F. J. McGraw of the Boston AMERICAN staff; Damon Runyon, the celebrated writer of breezy baseball stories; Frank G. Menke and many others will write the stories of the World's Series. Illustrated by a whole page of action pictures of actual plays by Dick Sears and a special staff of expert photographers.

WINNERS
IN THE
Boston American's
$4,000 Picture
Puzzle Competition
WHICH ENDED ON
JULY 18TH
Will Be Announced
in NEXT
Sunday's American

THE WEATHER.
Generally cloudy tonight and Thursday; slightly warmer Thursday; moderate east to southeast winds.
Sun rises 5:45; sets 5:17.
Moon rises 8:31 p. m.
High tide 1 a. m.; 1:15 p. m.

GREAT GERMAN GUNS DESTROY ANTWERP FORTS

Paris reports today confirm earlier dispatches of violent and sustained fighting on the extreme left of the allied forces, as the result of an attempt by the Germans to counter-flank their foe.

According to the official French statement the battle is now raging with great violence, with the opposing lines extended into the region of Lens, about ten miles northeast of Arras. The line also reaches to the vicinity of La Bassée, which is back a few miles from Lille. Allied forces are in contact with huge masses of cavalry in the region of Armentières, west of Lille.

A late wireless to Sayville from Berlin says that two more forts have been taken by the Germans at Antwerp. They are forts Kessel and Broechem, forming part of the same line of defense on which forts Waelhien, Wavre-St. Catherine and Koenigshof are located. The announcement of their capture says that they were unable to resist the destructive power of the German siege guns and that the capitulation of Antwerp can be only a matter of a couple of days.

GERMANS LOSE FOUR SHIPS.

On the sea the day's dispatches bring the news of the loss of four German warships. England announces officially that a British submarine sank a German torpedo boat destroyer last night off the German coast. Tokio reports say that the German cruiser Comoran and two other German gunboats had been sunk by the Japanese in a naval encounter in Kia Chan Bay.

Rheims is still under German fire, according to dispatches to the London Times from Aernay, France, which say that "the panic among the inhabitants has been increased through the action of German aeroplanes which are dropping bombs containing a high explosive, in an attempt to destroy the railway station. So far this place has not been damaged, but refugees report that fourteen persons were killed by one of the bombs."

The terrible cost of the war in men is emphasized again today in estimates by the armies of the Berlin War Office which place the total for all attacks at 1,160,000 killed, wounded and missing. Of this enormous toll, the Germans have lost 225,000, the French and British 225,000, Austria 125,000, Serbia and Montenegro 85,000 and Russia 100,000.

HALF MILLION IN BATTLE.

Berlin reports on the situation in France confirm reports as to the counter-landing operations by the Germans. Von Boehm's army, Berlin says, has been launched against the allies with such fury as to compel them to rush reinforcements to avert a hurried retreat.

One half a million men are engaged in the new struggle, with the Germans pressing forward in an effort to cut off and surround the French near Arras and Douai.

Winston Churchill, First Lord of the British Admiralty, is today reported in Antwerp, where his life is endangered by shells from the German siege guns, as the bombardment of the city is said to have already begun.

Churchill's mission in the new Belgian capital is said to have been to confer in person with King Albert and the Belgian General Staff. Many military experts believe the city is doomed.

The Military Government has informed the burgomaster that a bombardment of Antwerp is imminent and that the people who wish to flee from the town are requested to leave.

In the Russian Press the theatre of action the reports are as conflicting as to each month doubt as to the real situation.

Petrograd dispatches today have nothing but success to report, while the official statements from Berlin not only dispute every claim by Russia, but announce positive gains for the German armies.

Petrograd says that Russian troops have taken several German positions between Lysek and Wirballen at the point of the

A Whole Page of Pictures of Actual Plays in World's Series at Philadelphia Free With Next Sunday's Boston American

These pictures will be made expressly for the Boston Sunday AMERICAN by the best newspaper photographers at the opening Braves-Athletics games Friday and Saturday. They will illustrate the most complete and graphic stories of the World's Series published in any newspaper. Be sure to order your copy of the Sunday AMERICAN early and get the best up-to-the-minute World's Series news and pictures.

CODES IN ITS BASE THE GREATEST GOOD MACHINE

By TY COBB.

Written Expressly for the Boston American by the World's Champion Base-man and Greatest All-Round Player.

It has been a great season for the under dog in sport. The worm has been turning in all branches, and the short-end contenders have come out winners in a majority of cases. But the Boston Braves will have to do a lot of turning to win the Athletics.

Perhaps I will be proved wrong again, for I picked the Giants to beat out Boston in the final fight for the National League flag, and they failed to make even a close finish of it. But as I figure this World's Series, it will be a machine—the same being the Athletics—against a lucky hope. The Braves will not compare with the Athletics on paper, of course.

A COLD-BLOODED, COLORLESS MACHINE.

The Mack ball team is a cold-blooded, colorless machine. I know, for I have seen it grow since I have been in the American League, and the Detroit club has battled up against that machine often enough with championship hopes, only to be thrown back, reluctantly each time.

At the finish of the race in our league this year, the Athletics were not a good deal more than a team of one-half and one-half, but they got into the big series.

The story of their road victory, the Athletics might be caught by the Red Sox when Mack's machine is engaged in the first part of September with the Boston Americans only about the Athletics' own back at it (as mentioned on the last page) to the Athletics' own back at it.

TEAM CUNNING & PUNCH. It's a team that carries the punch and delivers it when it needs it. From their uniforms to their style of play, the Athletics are colorless, like the machine, and the colorless machine is not a colorless machine, but they are the real "realists" here.

It has been told before, but it is worth it again. The Athletics have been told before, but it is worth it again. The Athletics have been told before, but it is worth it again. The Athletics have been told before, but it is worth it again.

Throughout the season, the Athletics will play along and keep just as they are. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

INDOOR SPORTS

Loss of Smith Means a Harder Fight for Mack

Here's how Johnny Evers, captain of the Braves, looked on the loss of Smith:

We have something new to fight for that will make us go harder than we would have if we had the same. We have to show now that we have the nerve.

Red was a great man all around, but even that he's out of it the Braves are going to be harder than ever to beat.

All season long, the Braves have come through heat when they have been up against the toughest kind of luck, and they're going to repeat this thing. We'll all have an extra punch for the sake of Red.

One of the scariest ball players in the business.

He was a great man all around, but even that he's out of it the Braves are going to be harder than ever to beat.

One of the scariest ball players in the business.

He was a great man all around, but even that he's out of it the Braves are going to be harder than ever to beat.

One of the scariest ball players in the business.

He was a great man all around, but even that he's out of it the Braves are going to be harder than ever to beat.

DEAL TO BE MADE IN PLACE OF SMITH

Continued from First Page.

ing into the big series. It's very likely to hurt and chances though we have a good sub.

Smith was, in my opinion, one of the most dangerous hitters in baseball, and I looked to see him star in the big series. He was part of a great infield that had been drilled to work well together.

But it's all in the game. He's out and we're mighty lucky to have Charlie Deal to get in his place. Deal is a good ball player all the way through and he's playing to be a surprise.

One of the scariest ball players in the business.

He was a great man all around, but even that he's out of it the Braves are going to be harder than ever to beat.

One of the scariest ball players in the business.

He was a great man all around, but even that he's out of it the Braves are going to be harder than ever to beat.

One of the scariest ball players in the business.

He was a great man all around, but even that he's out of it the Braves are going to be harder than ever to beat.

One of the scariest ball players in the business.

DAILY SHIFTS

NEW FEATURE FOR HARVARD

By TED PARKE.

The Harvard football team is the only one in the country that has a daily shift system. The team is divided into three shifts, each of which plays a game every day.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

FANS BATTLE

POLICE IN MAD TICKET RUSH

This is the day—the big day for the baseball fans of Boston and Philadelphia—the day they get to see the most complete and graphic stories of the World's Series.

In Boston it is a case of watchful waiting. The mulls will bring the official notification card by which it will be possible to receive the actual seat checks at the ticket offices at Fenway Park.

These notification cards have to be signed by the party to whom each is addressed and then by him or her authorized agent, and on the last offices at Fenway Park, where upon payment of the amount called for, the tickets will be passed out.

The notifications were personally handed over to Postmaster Murray by President Gaffney and Secretary Madden and the postmaster, who is himself a thirty-third degree baseball fan, had charge of the distribution. By this arrangement it is expected that the difficulties of two years ago will be entirely avoided.

In the Quaker City the race on the ticket office where the sale of seats started was a small-sized riot and the police reserves were called out to preserve order.

A riot of no man proportion attended the mailing of the tickets. The owners of several stores along Ninth street closed their doors to disperse the waiting fans, because they claimed property could not enter.

The fans first took the order to move as a joke and refused to budge, but when the police clubs appeared there was open defiance.

They argued that they were on government property and the Philadelphia police would not dare molest them.

Again the police, this time assisted by the National Guard, cleared the street and the attack and again broke the line.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

Baseball Summary

NATIONAL LEAGUE

MONTEZ	10-10	10-10	10-10
ST. LOUIS	10-10	10-10	10-10
PHILADELPHIA	10-10	10-10	10-10
CHICAGO	10-10	10-10	10-10

Yesterday's Results

At Boston: Red Sox 10, Braves 9.	At New York: Yankees 10, Giants 9.
At Philadelphia: Athletics 10, Phillies 9.	At St. Louis: Cardinals 10, Browns 9.
At Chicago: Cubs 10, Pirates 9.	At Cincinnati: Reds 10, Reds 9.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

DETROIT	10-10	10-10	10-10
NEW YORK	10-10	10-10	10-10
PHILADELPHIA	10-10	10-10	10-10
CHICAGO	10-10	10-10	10-10

Games Today

Harvard-Tigers in Big Game at Fenway

The third and deciding contest of the baseball series between Harvard and Princeton will be played at Fenway Park today.

Harvard and Yale met last June in their deciding game at Fenway and the receipts of the contest were much larger than that usually taken in any college game.

Brooklyn Park will stage the contest and the National League schedule so permits otherwise Yale's top four players to play in the game.

Holiday Regatta Plans. A meeting of the executive committee of the New England Amateur Rowing Association will be held at the Union Boat Club house tomorrow evening to make final arrangements for the regatta on Columbus Day.

Trojans Want Guns. The Trojan football game for Saturday with any 115-pound player, the state, address James Whitaker, room 6220, or No. 85 Highland street, Boston.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

BALLON RACE

AT PITTSFIELD

PITTSFIELD, Oct. 7.—Leo Stevens of the Aero Club of America has arrived here to make arrangements for the national balloon race tomorrow.

The balloons entered include the Deering Doll of North Adams, I. C. Leary of New York, and the Aeronaute named by Leo Stevens.

Alfred H. Hawley, A. J. Morgan, George Van Vleet, Clifford H. Harman, Captain Thomas S. Baldwin, Dr. Joseph Kingsbury, Charles W. Payne, Robert Henderson, Walter J. Deane, John Van Valkenburg and William Van Sant.

In addition to the balloon race there will be an automobile pursuit race of the King Island. Forty Pittsfield and Lehigh automobiles have entered.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win. They are not a team that will change, but they are a team that will win.

50¢ ATTACHED

RUBBER HEEL

The Hustler

Should Walk on SLIPKNOT RUBBER HEELS They Keep You Comfortable All Day.

The Pure Rubber Insures the Hardest Kind of Wear Better Wear Slipknots

ASK FOR THE HEEL WITH THE SLIPKNOT

MANUFACTURED BY PLYMOUTH RUBBER CO.

This Means You

Save the Pieces Perhaps You See

Alley's

Yellow Label

GENUINE Old Taylor, America's Leading Beverage Whiskey Arrays Bears The Yellow Label

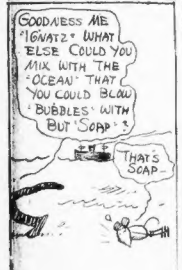

Slipknot Safety Heel

Slipknot Safety Heel

Slipknot Safety Heel

Krazy Kat

Copyright, 1914, International News Service.

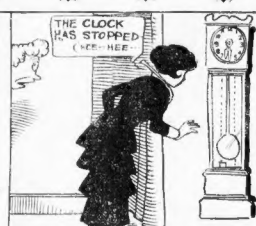

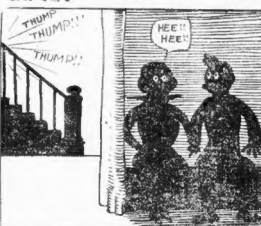

THE DINGBAT FAMILY

Copyright, 1914, International News Service.

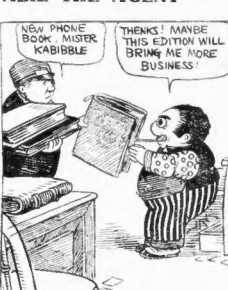

CURLY

Copyright, 1914, International News Service.

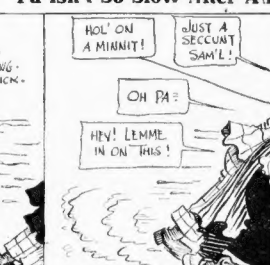

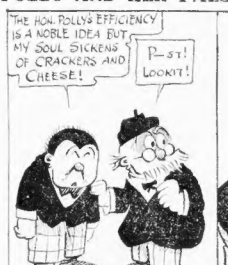

ABIE THE AGENT

Copyright, 1914, International News Service.

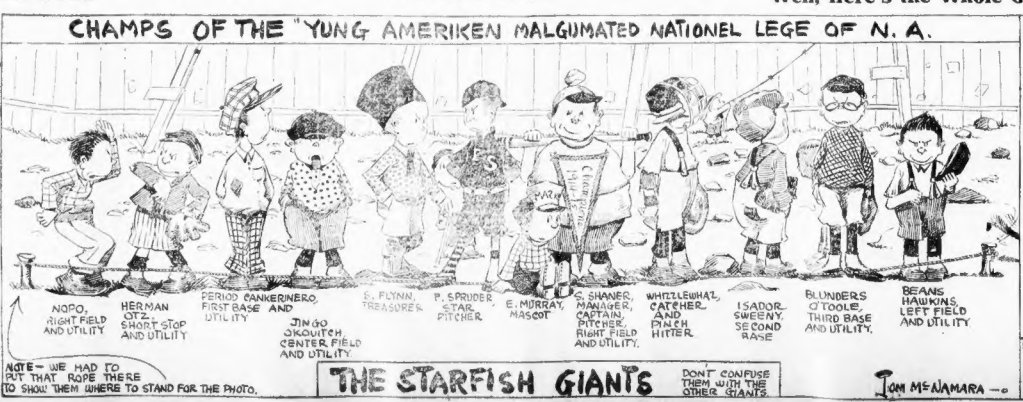

POLLY AND HER PALS

Copyright, 1914, Newspaper Feature Service. Great Britain Rights Reserved, G. L.

US BOYS

Copyright, 1914, Newspaper Feature Service.

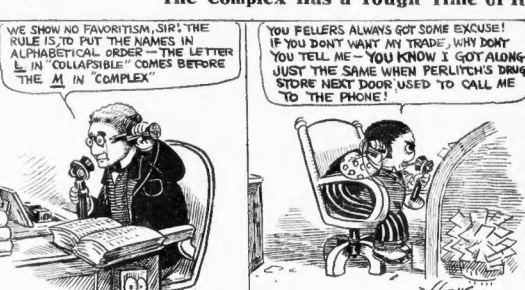

Imitation Is the Sincerest Form of Flattery

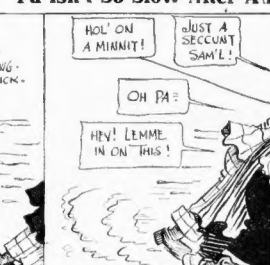

One of Them Was Going

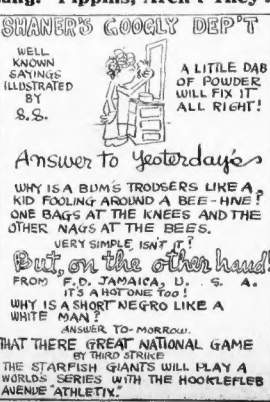

The Complex Has a Tough Time of It

Pa Isn't So Slow After All

Well, Here's the Whole Gang. Pippins, Aren't They?

BOSTON AMERICAN

80 AND 82 SUMMIT ST., BOSTON, OCT. 7, 1914.

(It Costs Us Fifty Cents to Print This Editorial)

You Work AGAINST War if You
Work for "Votes for Women"

Women Represent Peace, Justice, Respect for Human Life.
THEY Should Be Represented in the Lawmaking

By the War Editors

Again we say, WOMEN SHOULD VOTE

This time we say it at an expense to ourselves of fifty cents in cash.

A number of women have organized a syndicate to sell articles on woman suffrage to newspapers. And this is one of their articles. They are good business women.

Their representative, Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, first wrote and said: "Won't you please write an article in favor of woman suffrage, and let us print it in other papers throughout the country?"

"We said, 'Certainly; with pleasure,' and then came this good business note:

"Won't you please publish your own article in the Boston American, and pay us fifty cents for letting you print it? The money will be devoted to the cause of suffrage."

Here is the article; the fifty cents will be paid.

In everything that happens there is an argument for "Votes for Women."

When you read that children are dying in thousands through neglect, you know that the chief neglect is on the part of public officials. And you know that "Votes for Women" WOULD CORRECT THAT.

When you see the nations of Europe at war, your first thought is THOSE THAT ARE MURDERED IN HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS ARE THE SONS OF WOMEN.

For every one of those bodies lying dead some woman has suffered an agony worse than that of the battlefield.

"Votes for Women," giving women power to influence men in office from Emperors down, WOULD DO MORE FOR PEACE THAN ALL THE PEACE PALACES, AND ALL THE PEACE TALK.

If a man owns a horse it is for HIM to say what the horse shall do—pull a wagon, run a race or be killed for its hide and hoofs.

If a man owns a dog, a gun, a hog, a chicken or a fish hook the law says to him, "YOU can control that which is YOURS, decide what shall be done with it."

But if a woman has A SON, and if it is proposed by some ambitious gentleman to send that son and a million others to be butchered on the battlefield, that mother, and the mothers of the others, HAVE NOTHING TO SAY ABOUT IT.

Woman creates the man, gives him birth, nurses him, brings him up, makes every sacrifice for him. And then our law slams the door in her face, while MEN decide whether or not HER SON shall be sent to be butchered on the battlefield.

It is about time to end that. Can't you see that "Votes for Women" would end it?

You know that only recently the better side of man, his sense of justice and kindness, has played a part in government.

Originally government was that of the club. The strongest brute ruled.

Then government was divided between cunning kings and pagan priests. The cunning kings ruled with their ministers and their armed forces.

And the cunning priests of the ancient days, beginning long before the Egyptians, ruled in the name of many ridiculous gods. Always BRUTALITY was the controlling power.

Then the power was taken away to some extent by the kings. And the people—that is to say, THE MEN—began to rule themselves.

They wrote their Declaration of Independence, declaring that all MEN were created equal. They invented constitutions and various forms of government, designed to protect MEN and secure for THEM justice.

At the same time they carefully excluded the WOMEN, CHILDREN, IDIOTS AND INDIANS from any share in voting.

Lately men have begun to realize that kindness and not brutality should rule. They realize it especially as they look at the bloody battlefields of Europe.

They know perfectly well—those of them that have any intelligence at all—that women REPRESENT kindness and justice in the human race.

Some men at last begin to realize that since the day has come for justice and kindness in men to play its part in government the day has also come for the just and kind HALF of the human race—that is to say, FOR THE WOMEN—to play a part in government.

When a man opposes votes for women he is entitled to your pity.

You may be quite sure, in the first place, that he has been unfortunate in the women with whom he has come in contact.

The man who thinks his own mother unfit to vote and ranks her below the ignorant, half-drunk man ahead of him in the voting line is to be pitied.

The man whose knowledge of women makes him doubt that

(CONTINUED IN LAST TWO COLUMNS.)

The Watch-the-Clock Man

"How Helen Helped"

An Illustrated Serial Story of Business, Guile and Love

FRANK DEMING,
THE OFFICE MANAGER.

HELEN HAWTHORN,
THE STENOGRAPHER.

PAUL VAN BUREN,
SON OF "THE OLD MAN."

Above are three of the characters in "How Helen Helped," a story by Hal Coffman, which shows in prose and picture the life of a girl in a business office and her influence upon the men she meets there.

The first chapter, "Hey, kid, who's the peach?" will shortly appear on this page. Some of the chapters to follow are:

"That's a good girl and you let her alone."
"You'll pay for this!"
"No, no; I must look after Helen."
"I'll get that fellow yet."

"That can't be me; it's the whiskey I've been drinking."
"Boy, boy, don't you see what you are losing?"
"Give me time and I'll find the culprit."

THE VOICE

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

I DREAMED a Voice, of one God-authorized,
Cried loudly thro' the world, "Disarm! Disarm!"
And there was consternation in the camps;
And men who strutted under braid and lace
Beat on their medaled breasts, and wailed, "Undone!"
The word was echoed from a thousand hills,
And shop and mill, and factory, and forge,
Where thrived the awful industries of death,
Hushed into silence. Scrawled upon the doors,
The golden rule, "Blessed be for children starve."
But foolish women clasped their little sons
And wept for joy, not reasoning like men.

Again the Voice commanded: "Now go forth
And build a world for Progress and for Peace.
This work has waited since the earth was shaped,
But men were fighting, and they could not toil.
The needs of life outnumber needs of death.
Leave death with God. Go forth, I say, and build."

And then a sudden, comprehensive joy
Shone in the eyes of men; and one who thought
Only of conquests and of victories
Woke from his gloomy reverie and cried,
"Aye, come and build! I challenge all to try,
And I will make a world more beautiful
Than Eden was before the serpent came."
And like a running flame on western wilds,
Ambition spread from mind to listening mind.
And lo! The looms were busy once again,
And all the earth resounded with men's toil.

Vast palaces of Science graced the world;
Their banquet tables spread with feasts of truth.
For all who hungered. Music kissed the air,
Once rent with boom of cannons. Statues gleamed
From wooded ways, where ambushed armies hid
In times of old. The sea and air were gay
With shining sails that sailed from land to land.
A universal language of the world
Made nations kin, and poverty was known
But as a word marked "obsolete," like war.
The arts were kindled with celestial fire;
Now poets sang so Homer's fame grew dim;
And brush and chisel gave the wondering race
Sublimar treasures than old Greece displayed.
Men differed still; fierce argument arose.
For men are human in this human sphere.
But unarmed Arbitration stood between
And Reason settled in a hundred hours
What War disputed for a hundred years.

Oh, that a Voice, of one God-authorized,
Might cry to all mankind, "Disarm! Disarm!"

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

The total valuation of properties devoted to recreation in the City of Boston is $64,667,700, which far exceeds that of any other city in the United States except New York?

You Work AGAINST War if You
Work for "Votes for Women"

(CONTINUED FROM FIRST TWO COLUMNS.)

they would unselfishly and loyally work for justice and truth and kindness and efficiency at the polls is to be pitied.

Give the vote to women, THAT THE GOOD, UNSELFISH HALF OF THE HUMAN RACE MAY BE REPRESENTED IN LAWMAKING.

Give the vote to women, that selfish officeholders may be compelled to ask themselves, "What do these women want for themselves, and for their children?"

Give the vote to women and they will protect the children from the sharks that exploit child labor.

Give the vote to women, because even the most selfish man should be ashamed to keep one-half of the human race in slavery—to be without the right to share in the making of laws is slavery, no matter how prettily your husband may dress you, however nicely he may talk to you, as his INFERIOR.

Give the vote to women, ANYHOW, for women are going to HAVE the vote, and you might as well be in the fashion and advocate "VOTES FOR WOMEN."

How Much Self-Government Will
Ireland Have Under Home Rule?

On all sides, in the homes, in the clubs, in editorial rooms, in individual conversation, the question is being asked, even now, with all the war interest of the hour:

"How much self-government is Ireland going to have under Home Rule?"

The answer will be given in a way satisfactory to all reasonable men and women in next Sunday's AMERICAN.

Every loyal son and daughter of Erin, every friend of Ireland's cause who has in the last thirty years helped the great home rule movement will read this answer line by line. It will be a clear, detailed, authoritative statement. Order your Sunday AMERICAN today.

"MR. DOOLEY" now exclusively in HEARST'S MAGAZINE
all news stands—15 cents